To whom it may concern,

Please find attached our application for a polytunnel at Kindling Farm (previously known as Barn Hey farm), Netherley Road, Tarbock – we hope it includes all of the information required.

This application is to erect a second triple-span tunnel (24mx30m) having put up our first tunnel last spring and successfully produced a range of crops in it this season. We will use it to increase our production of fruit, vegetables and salads for our local communities in Knowsley and the wider Liverpool regions. The additional polytunnel space is essential to our increasing our capacity to produce healthy local food both increasing the volumes we can grow and the period of the year that we can offer it for. This additional space is particularly important this season as we have been approached by an organisation working with schools in the Liverpool Regions (Food for Thought) as well as the Queen of Greens (a mobile grocery bus operating in Knowsley) and other local businesses and projects all wanting to buy produce from us.

Having purchased the Farm in Spring 2023 (to establish a community owned wildlife and climate friendly farm for the Northwest), we are really excited about the coming season and starting to produce increasing volumes and varieties of fresh local organic fruit and vegetables here in Knowsley!

We hope we have provided everything needed, however, please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions (on 07872 573 661 or the landline or email below).

Many thanks and best wishes
