

Cronton Road

View from 93 Cronton Road – site not visible

Natural screenage and new planting on Cronton Road, North of the proposed site – clearly breaks the view and limited view in to the site

Taken at the following point:

Views from Cronton Road are hidden by established boundaries (to the east of the site) No views in to site

Views from south and Equine property are hidden by established boundaries - No views in to site

Established trees on Prescott Road protect views from site and Towards Water Lane – screens the proposed building

View of Site from Wildair Adventure, Conston Road – the site is not viable, difference in levels and natural topography.
New planting for the revised road scheme

New planting to be established on roundabout as shown below – will enhance screening from this point. It should be noted that the road is highest point, the site is at a lower level, falling away down Prescott Road towards Water Lane

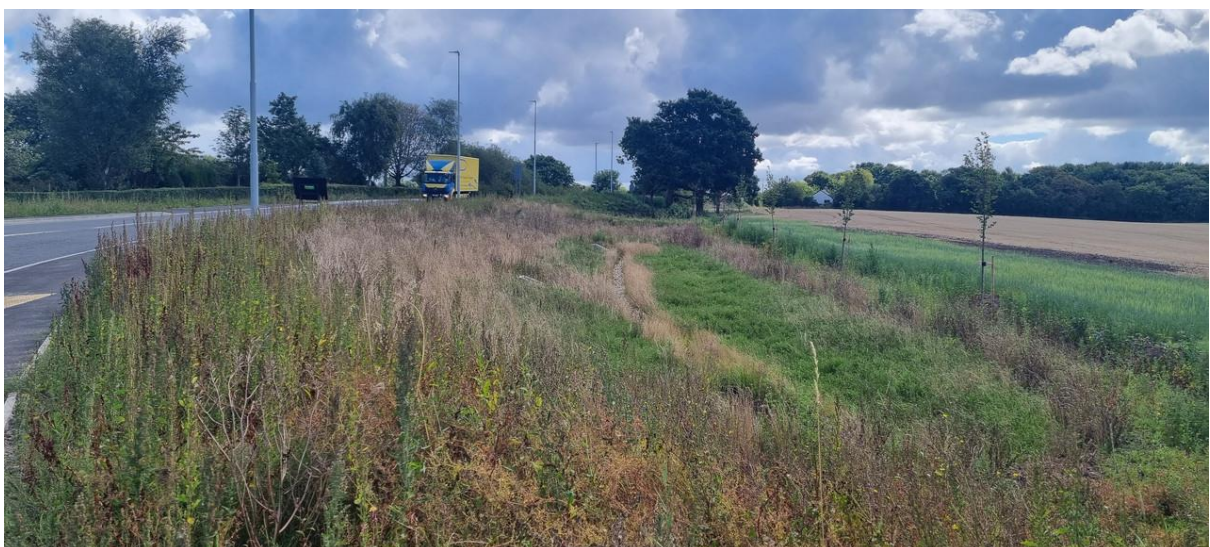

Roundabout – Site side

New planting and natural screenage when established – landscaping as part of highway improvements

Clear variation in ground level from A5080 and proposed parcel of lane. Planting area to mature.

PRESCOTT ROAD

View from Lower House Farm (Blocked by established infrastructure and boundaries)

View from White House Farm (Blocked by established infrastructure and boundaries)

WATER LANE JUNCTION

View From Brunt Bogger (Blocked by established infrastructure and boundaries)

View from Field gate, Water Lane towards the site

View from Sunflower Field on water Lane

View of Lorry at Roundabout at A5080 Prescott Road from sunflower field. Roundabout is only visible

View of site – no lorry visible on Prescott Road

Lorry only visible at Junction of Water Lane – the proposed site is clearly hidden with established and mature hedge/trees

ALDER LANE

View from Smaller Gorse Farm (Blocked by established infrastructure and boundaries)

View towards the site from Alder lane

Similar Structure clearly visible South of Alder Lane on Stockwells Lane

WATER LANE

View from bridge on Water Lane (Knowsley Express way)

