

With regards to your request for a Supporting Statement- Operational Requirements:

North West Ambulance Service Trust have confirmed Emergency call-outs directly from site are quite rare. Most calls happen while the vehicles are already out (mostly when they clear at A&E). Stretton Way is less busy than their current location so NWAS don't envisage any issues with operational access.

With regard to operational movements:

Emergency (PES) shifts are generally 07.00-19.00 and 19.00-07.00. NWAS may put an additional resource in at busy times (weekends / high demand) and this would operate 14.00-02.00

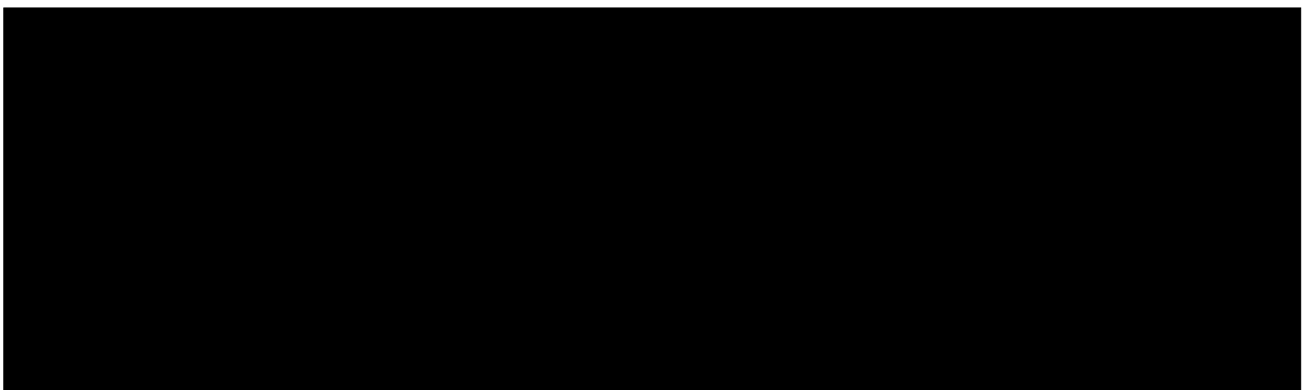

We are finding that vehicles at start of shift will be out within 20-30 minutes of shift starting. It is rare for them to return to base (except between 02.00-06.00 when it does go quieter) except on meal break.

Crews get 1x30 minute break between their 5th and 7th hour on duty.....normally they return to base for this. Control room will try and stagger these breaks to ensure resources are available.

Crews get 1x20 minute break between their 8th and 10th hour on duty. In reality they often miss this break in exchange for an early finish.

Non-emergency (PTS) vehicle usually works 08.00-17.00 and will remain out most of the day. May return for a meal-break but crews often choose to take meal at hospital.

With regard to co-existence on the site with the adjoining owners NWAS have agreed with the landlord that he can have the access code to their yard and delivery vehicles can turn there if needed.
